

Decision Support Mood Solution Developer

Full-time, permanent roles based in multiple locations across the South of England.

Agilient International helps its clients to make good decisions - timely decisions that are based on the best information available at the time. We deliver rich information driven solutions to our clients that support their decision making by providing them with the information they need when they need it, in a format that works for them, with some assurance of the quality of the data used to generate their outputs. We now have an exciting opportunity for a Mood solution developer looking for a new challenge to join our team.

The ideal candidate will be happy to work in a flexible environment for a rapidly expanding solution delivery and consultancy organisation and have the following skillset:

Essential:

- Be experienced in using Mood 15 BA and AE to build solutions for clients
- Understand information exchange requirements between Mood and other software applications, particularly MS Office products
- Understand SQL databases
- Have strong technical and communication skills
- Be able to translate user requirements into technical specifications and explain technical issues/constraints to non-technical audiences
- Be happy to work in a flexible environment for a rapidly expanding solution delivery and consultancy organisation
- Be able to work independently as well as part of a team (some home working required)
- Have SC clearance

Desirable:

- Understand the role of architectures in a business environment
- Have the ability to develop and apply architectures
- Have experience of developing decision support dashboards and user interface functionality
- Be experienced in using iterative solution development techniques such as RAD and Agile methodology
- Have DV clearance

For the successful candidates, you will receive a competitive salary based upon experience and the option to benefit from an employee share option scheme; the opportunity to work as part of a diverse, experienced and enthusiastic team; the chance to create real value for a range of exciting clients.

For more information please contact jobs@agilient-international.com enclosing your CV and a cover note explaining why you think you would be suited to the role based on the skills and experience description outlined above.